

Courageous

"The fire extinguisher exploded, swallowing everything on that side of the room in a white cloud. Yes! I scrambled up from where I knelt, my arms sore and my whole body shaking . . . I was free! I'd made it outside!" (Gratz 136).

This quote represents that Kamaran is courageous because to escape just to save his brother that could or could not be a terrorist is pretty courageous. To escape he had to use a gun and shoot a fire extinguisher which is a pretty small target for a first time with a gun.

Stubborn

"No. No, I couldn't think of that. I could never think that. I didn't want Darius dead. I wanted him alive, and back home, and proven innocent" (Gratz 67).

This quote represents Kamaran being stubborn because the thing is he isn't being stubborn in a bad way. He just is refusing to give up to the fact that the whole world is basically saying "Darius is a terrorist" and it really payed off in the end because he was correct.

Patient

" Frustration overwhelmed me. No! We were trying to save people! ' You don't get it-' I started to say but Darius put his hand to my chest and stepped in front of me" (Gratz 243).

This quote is something that represents Kamaran as patient because he is frustrated because but he keeps his cool and the guard goes and gets the FBI and it gets solved in the end. His patience also pays off through the book when trying to tell everyone that Darius wasn't a terrorist.

Loyal

" ' A Code of Honor you and your brother also lived by, is that correct . . . ' Be strong. Be brave. Tell the truth,' she said skimming the list. 'Be loyal' " (Gratz 60-61).

This quote explains that Kamaran is loyal to the code of honor that him and his brother Darius went by as little kids. The fact that he still remembers that he should go by that and is true to those requirements is very loyal. He is also loyal because he stays by his brothers side when everyone around him is saying stuff that Kamaran knows isn't true.

Honorable

" THE CODE OF HONOR, it said at the top, and underneath were written the seven rules we thought all heroes should live by:" (Gratz 38).

This quote shows how Kamaran is honorable because it's first showing that Kamaran has a CODE OF HONOR that he and his brother go by and he follows that and that is showing that he is honorable to his brother and that he shows honor that he has a good enough brother to take care of him and not betray him.

Intelligent

" 'But the knocks, they're not like letters or words you can rearrange. It's just this one means 'Mom and Dad are coming' this one means 'The coast is clear', this one means 'I'm coming to you'. " (Gratz 80).

This quote represents that Kamaran is intelligent because to come up with these series of knocks to tell what is happening and what things that you need to do or what to be prepared for is a very intelligent way to do something.
